Sewer "mire" costing $500,000

Frustrated official rails at federal "red tape"

Pleasanton City Manager Bill Edgar sent a blistering letter to Environmental Protection Agency Water Division Director Sheila Prindiville in an attempt to get the EPA to "expedite the implementation of whatever solution (to the valley's sewer problems) is decided on." Edgar's "diatribe" begins by quoting an old saying, "Government's answer to a starving dog is to feed him intravenously through the tail. It might solve the problem, but there has to be a better way." The frustrated city official terms the background on the attempt to solve the sewer problem "incredible" and states "sufficient studies and reports have been completed to make the absorption of sewage by all of the paper a viable alternative."

The letter presumably was inspired by the EPA's latest move in the years-old hassle over sewage treatment in the west end of the valley.

Both Pleasanton and the Valley Community Services

District have just finished lengthy Environmental Impact Reports (EIRs) on the expansion of the VCSD plant in Pleasanton to 8 million gallons a day (mgd) capacity.

However, the EPA ruled that the EIRs were inadequate and that the EPA must prepare an Environmental Impact Statement (EIS). This will delay any decision on the size and funding of the expansion until next summer, much to the chagrin of the litigation-laden city and VCSD.

Edgar's letter points out "the project has been steeped in red tape and has been wallowing around in the bureaucratic mire for three and one-half years."

Edgar admits the letter reflects "a very high level of frustration" but adds that the delays have cost the city $500,000 in repairs to the Sunol Boulevard plant already and will cost more in the future.

Edgar also blames the state and EPA for "constantly changing and ever-increasing requirements" that further increase delays.

"At some point the planning must end and we must begin to address ourselves to the resolution of our problems through implementation" the letter goes on.

Edgar concluded by stressing the "critical nature of Pleasanton's particular problem" and urging the EPA to do as much as possible to make a decision as soon as possible on the size and funding of any sewage treatment facility in the valley.

Neither Edgar nor Prindiville were available for comment by presstime.

Dawna Richter takes prize

Newcomer is Bicentennial winner

PLEASANTON — Dawna Richter, who moved to this community with her family just a month ago from Tennessee, is the second weekly winner in the Bicentennial Essay Contest, junior high school section.

She received a $5 merchandise certificate from the Shoe Stable and is eligible for the grand prize, a $25 savings bond. Pleasanton school children in grades K-5 and 9-12 are also eligible to enter essays in the contest.

Awards will be made weekly for four weeks in each of three divisions.

The contest is sponsored by the chamber in cooperation with the Pleasanton and Amador schools.

Entries for this week's contest are due at the District Educational Center (Neil Sweeney's office) today.

Deadline for next week's contest is Oct. 9.

Maximum length for essays is 500 words.

Dawna's essay read in part: "On July 4, 1776, 56 of the bravest and most courageous men in the United States of America gathered together and signed what they believed to be one of the most valuable and sacred pieces of paper they had ever witnessed.

"The Bicentennial to me is celebrating the courage and bravery it took to sign their names on this piece of paper. All were ready and willing to put all down in their signatures."

"In the following months ahead these men were called upon many times to display and produce enough courage to take care of everyone involved in the fight for freedom. Each man was called upon to stand behind his beliefs in many different ways, some in rallying the people, others in plowing ahead in print and some by speeches and meetings.

"Most people did simple things such as taking care of wounded soldiers or sharing their food and homes with different regiments when they needed it. And of course there were those who did the actual fighting, laying down their lives for us. All these people and more are being merited for their courage they showed in the months ahead.

"I'm proud of these people who laid down all they had for one cause which changed the lives of all their descendants."

Rodeo, LARPD talks fail

LIVERMORE — Even the proverbial sweaty meeting in a smoke-filled room couldn't bring the Livermore Area Recreation and Park District board and Rodeo Association to an out-of-court agreement yesterday.

At a noontime closed meeting in LARPD headquarters, the Rec District board considered proposals from the horesmen, rejected certain points, then instructed attorney Earl Odell on compromises he could make to rescue the dispute from tomorrow's court date.

Nobody was willing to be specific, but the board appeared to feel they had some distance to go before the hoped-for agreement would be reached.

Odell is supposed to meet with Rodeo Association lawyer Keith Frazier again to try to come to an agreement.

The lawsuit was also designed to clear up other points in the old contract, which has been a bone of contention since 1962 when the horse men traded away their decrepit rodeo grounds on South Livermore Avenue for the promise of use of a bigger and better facility.

Mori's Saturday "Town Meeting"

Valley residents will get their chance to "tell it like it is" to their legislative representative this Saturday when Assemblyman Floyd Mori conducts the first of his "Town Meetings" in this end of the 15th District.

"I want to hear your questions, your comments and your criticism," Mori has said of the intent of these sessions, seven of which are planned throughout the South County.

Elected to office in January to fill the 22 months left in the late Carlos Bee's term, Mori faces another such voter test in the spring of 1976.

A former mayor of Pleasanton and a teacher of economics at Chabot College in Hayward, Mori sees these Town Meetings as "an opportunity to meet with the people on an informal basis, to discuss issues and problems." The first such gathering, held in Hayward last week, "brought a lot of questions about the proposed county jail in Hayward, programs for the aged and student environment at Cal-State Hayward," Mori said.

This Saturday's session in Pleasanton is set for the library building on Black Avenue near Santa Rita Road. Mori will be there to meet his constituents from 10 a.m. until noon.

Portola Avenue was first choice

Prairie Market may choose Stanley-Murdell corner

LIVERMORE — Plans for a neighborhood shopping center that could include a Prairie Market on the six-acre corner site at Stanley Boulevard and Murdell Lane were revealed at a planning commission meeting Tuesday night.

A Prairie Market hoped to locate at a Portola Avenue-First Street intersection site but a rezoning request that would have allowed its establishment was denied by the city council last month.

That action resulted in a law suit against the City of Livermore, claiming improper procedures. The suit is pending.

The planning commission was scheduled to consider a rezoning request for the six-acre Stanley-Murdell site, the purpose being to continue rezoning that location for a future shopping center. A staff report recommended the rezoning application be granted.

Commissioners learned of development plans for the site from C.P. Oberaa, representing the Carlton Group, the owners of the land.

According to Oberaa, the group has contacted various food markets to locate on the site and is "definitely working" with Prairie Markets, as well as others.

The group hopes to establish one stable store and attract other satellite stores, such as barber shops, he explained.

The planning commission continued the rezoning request to Oct. 7.

In other business, commissioners:

- Approved as uses in the building under construction at First and Scott streets: professional offices; contractors' offices and storage and warehousing, including related retail sales; repair services, including automobile and similar equipment and domestic appliances, building construction and

- maintenance services; manufacturers' representatives, research and development, medical and similar laboratories, and similar uses. These were contained in staff recommendations.

- Approved an application of Springtown Gulf by Norm McAtee to allow a vehicle repair and storage establishment at an existing building at Church and Second streets.

- Continued to their Oct.

7 meeting consideration of an amendment to the Livermore General Plan Land Use Element affecting the area generally located south of I-580 near Portola Avenue.

- Sent a letter from the city attorney to the city council which indicates a council idea to require development of low cost housing as a condition to neighborhood shopping center zoning approval cannot be done. Commissioners will continue exploring other areas as conditions of zoning approval.

- Recommended denial of an application of Kenneth Watt to permit division of property into two building sites of five and 130 acres where 100 acres is required at 7033 Collier Canyon Road.

- Recommended approval of an application of R.

Blair Smith and Ted Nelson to permit continued operation of a private gliderport at 8638 Patterson Pass Road.

- Continued review of the Alameda County Solid Waste Management Plan and its EIR.

- Denied a freestanding sign as requested by R.W. Henderlong for the building under construction at First and Scott streets.

Ten Monte Vista students win NMSC commendations

DANVILLE — Ten students at Monte Vista High School have been named

Commended Students in the Merit Program by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation (NMSC)

Principal Sam S. Zackheim announced that the following students received Letters of Commendation: John Bolmer, son of Mr. and Mrs. P. Bolmer; Karen Clifford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Clifford; Amy DeMent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack DeMent; Joseph Fowler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Fowler of San Ramon; William Frazier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Frazier; Ann Lichens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lichens; Devin O'Brien, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles O'Brien; Matthew Schneider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schneider; John Smikahl, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Smikahl; Deborah Zigenis, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. James Scholothauer of San Ramon.

These students are among 35,000 Commended students named nationwide on the basis of their high performance on the 1974 Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT). Commended students represent less than two per cent of those who are expected to graduate from high school in 1976.

Although commended students ranked high on the tests, they do not continue in the Merit Scholarship competition because their scores were just below those of the 15,000 semi-finalists publicly announced by NMSC in September.

To increase their opportunities for college, NMSC reports the Commended students names to the regionally accredited U.S. colleges they named as their first and second choices.

Crash victim moved from Intensive Care

LIVERMORE — Veronica Dougherty, injured in a car crash which claimed the life of a 12-year-old boy, was moved out of the intensive care unit of Stanford Medical Center yesterday but remained in critical condition.

Dougherty, of 1362 St. Mary's Drive, was transferred to Stanford Monday from Valley Memorial Hospital at the wishes of her family, according to a spokesman from the Palo Alto medical center.

Her son, John, 12, was listed in satisfactory condition after surgery Tuesday for facial injuries he received in the accident.

Michael Kellman, 12, of 479 Hillcrest Ave., also a passenger in the car driven by Mrs. Dougherty, was pronounced dead on arrival at Valley Memorial immediately after the accident.

The accident occurred Wednesday, Sept. 24 at the intersection of Seventh and H Sts. John Michael Bessera, 29, of 5860 Victoria Lane was charged with vehicular manslaughter and felony drunk driving.

Bessera, a jockey, allegedly broadsided Dougherty's car, which then skidded about 70 feet. He received minor injuries and was treated and released from Valley Memorial.

Bessera was arraigned Monday on the two felony charges. His case was continued to Oct. 14.

Teachers gripe but honor midweek LVUSD work day

LIVERMORE — Despite their grumbling, all Livermore Unified School District teachers reported for work yesterday while their pupils had the day off.

It was the second of five "teacher work days" scheduled throughout the year. The first was the traditional housekeeping and pep-talk work day before school opened in September.

The work day was called so teachers could work on their teaching goals for the year.

The staffs of all three intermediate schools drew up written protests to the midweek work day, which they said disturbed the continuity of the week. It also added to the number of days they will have to work this year.

The staff of Ema C. Smith Elementary School yesterday released the results of an in-house poll which showed one lone teacher in support of the work day and 24 opposed. "The notification of the district's intent to have a district-wide work day on Oct. 1 did not allow sufficient time for adequate communication from the staff," they noted in a mimeographed statement.

School district officials say the school board and Livermore Education Association, representing the teachers, reached tentative agreement in June on the 1975-76 school calendar, including the protested work day. However, the calendar was modified last month and teachers do not consider it final.

Doctors
Lawyers
and
REALTORS

The sale or purchase of a home is usually the largest transaction undertaken by a family. Your REALTOR is an ethical professional who is specially trained in the financial and practical aspects of real estate sales. With a health problem you visit a doctor, with a legal problem, a lawyer. They are trained, tested and licensed to serve in these professions. When selling your home, it is also wise to obtain the services of the best professional available — a REALTOR. Advantages? There are many:

Selling a home requires time and effort. Leaving this responsibility to a professional REALTOR allows you to concentrate on locating your new home.

A REALTOR pre-qualifies the financial status of the buyer. This avoids your spending hours of time dealing with prospects who eventually discover they cannot afford your home.

The REALTOR'S knowledge of the various sources of current financing can mean a quicker sale for your home.

The buyer is more likely to discuss any doubts with a REALTOR than with the homeowner. Usually these doubts can be quickly dissolved and the transaction continued.

A REALTOR maintains an active follow-up system. When your house goes on the market, he may have a backlog of prospective buyers.

When you sell your own home, your house is "off the market" whenever you're away. With a REALTOR, your house is for sale all day and every day. There is always someone available to talk business with prospective buyers.

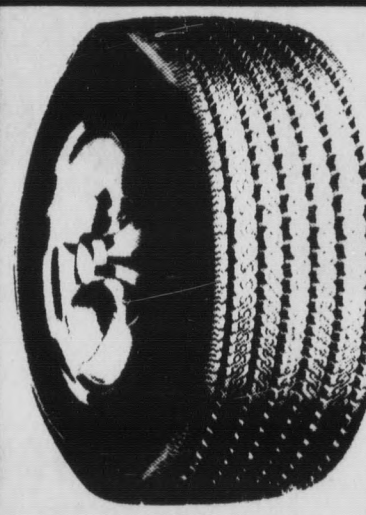

At WOODREN we take pride in our professionalism and assure our clients of quick and competent sales attention. Come in and meet us someday.

The Italian World Series

Mike Zampa

The world boccie ball championships will be held at Sunol Valley Golf Course Saturday, Oct. 18.

But before you rifle a dresser drawer for that xeroxed list of ethnic jokes, listen up.

The Italians take their game seriously, just as sure as there are five gears on their army tanks, (four reverse and one forward in case of sneak attack from behind).

They're staging qualifying tournaments all over the country right now to determine who has the right to compete at the tiny hamlet in the Southern Alameda County hills.

Sunol owner Frank Ivaldi (with a name like that you thought maybe he'd promote caber tossing?) is erecting a 10 by 90 foot court for the one big day of competition. Its surface will be of crushed sea shells. The bowling battles will be waged on the lower level of Sunol's golf course driving range.

The competition is being sponsored by Martini and Rossi, the ones who bring you the wine commercial with that inane Burt Bacharach piano jingle.

They have taken such an interest in the championships that the company's president will be flown to the Bay Area from Italy to witness the event.

Given the nature of the competitors, he should bargain for the refreshment concession that day.

The Encyclopedia of Sports says the physical requirements of boccie ball are low enough that it attracts men, women, and children.

That's a lot of parsley trimming.

Boccie ballers require tremendous physical and mental endurance. They traditionally consume liters of M and R's stock, or that of their competitors, before playing. To remain erect for the matches that follow is a feat of Olympian stature.

It seems that only the "oldtimers" still play boccie ball. Their offspring have turned to bowling as nouveau chic.

Boccie ball (Italians, at least the one's I know, pronounce it botchay) is played on a court four feet wide and 60 long. Reference sources say there is no official size for a playing surface, so Ivaldi's grand alley is perfectly acceptable.

Competition involves two teams of one-to-four players. Each team has four heavy, wooden balls, four-and-a-half inches in diameter. The first team up launches the game by bowling a smaller, white ball to any spot down the court. In the players' manual they'd call this the jack ball. Italians call it the boccine. That "ine" on the end is a unique phraseology that denotes smallness or endearment. If you're an eight-year-old named Michael with pink cheeks and tight curls, they'll call you Mikeene. Emphasis is on that second syllable.

In any event, after the boccine is placed, the remaining team members bowl their larger ball down the court. The object is to rest the ball right next to the boccine.

Of course when Team A has completed its turn, Team B can attempt to knock away the shots of Team A. It's a hybrid of lawn bowling and shuffleboard, with the menace of croquet thrown in.

After everyone has bowled, they count up the scores. You get a point for every ball resting closer to the target than your opponent's.

If you think that sounds difficult, ask them how to play amore, a contest in which two opponents hammer their fists in the air twice, then thrust up any number of fingers while shouting unintelligible oaths. True, that sounds like an Italian domestic squabble, but it really is a game.

Boccie ball used to flourish in the Bay Area. Every bar in downtown Oakland featured a court, or it lost the trade of an entire segment of the immigrant population.

Today it is tough to find a court. They still play at the Columbo Club on Claremont Ave. in Oakland, and at Ligure Hall on Shattuck Backesto Park on N. 13th St. in San Jose lures scores of veteran players.

But you can't walk into a corner watering hole any more and expect to pick up a boccie game. They're playing Pong, or air-cushion hockey, new-fangled tests of skill where the machine makes the noise and you just press a lever.

For a day at least, Ivaldi's world championship will bring back memories of the good old games, when the equipment was simple, and the participants, more animated.

Chow baby, or is it ciao?

Cal coach sees physical battle

Head California High School football coach Dick Nodlinski does not have any special formula planned when his young team takes on East Bay Athletic League powerhouse Granada at 1 p.m. Saturday in a non-league game at Granada.

"We just plan to play aggressive football and just do the same things offensively that we have already done this season," he said. "We know they are a tough, physical team but we have had success this season with our offense and see no reason to change it for this game."

There is no denying the Grizzlies have had success moving the ball this year. California has rung up almost 300 yards total offense per contest despite winning just one of three encounters.

"The only problem with our offense is that we have not played four good consecutive quarters," Nodlinski went on. "To win consistently we will have to do that."

The Grizzlies' 13-8 victory over Mesa Verde of Orangevale last Saturday bears Nodlinski's statement out. The Cal gridders scored two touchdowns early in the first half and then hung on for the victory. The fact Mesa Verde is winless this season took some glitter away from the Grizzly victory. "The heat affected us," Nodlinski said. "It was about 102 up there and our kids were not used to it. That might have had something to do with our second half slump."

"It was not our best effort of the season. Our first game against Pacifica was probably our best. We moved the ball pretty consistently in that game," Sophomore Tom Woodmansee will start at quarterback for the Granada game. Against Mesa Verde he threw a touchdown pass and ran the offense well, according to Nodlinski.

"Tom showed he could run with the ball against Mesa Verde. They did not have a man on him, however, Granada will probably have somebody watching him."

Another key player for the Grizzlies could be running back Tyler Laurie.

Family fun at Festival '75 this weekend

Livermore will kick-off its celebration of the Bicentennial this weekend with a variety show that gets everyone in town into the act. Focusing on "Two Hundred Years of Art in America,"

Festival '75 will offer two full days of continuous entertainment that will embrace nearly every form of the performing and visual arts. The festival of the arts enters its seventh season under sponsorship of the Livermore Cultural Arts Council with the biggest, most ambitious program ever. Festival '75 offers something to tickle the fancy of people of every age group and every taste — all completely free of charge to the public. (See programs below.)

The "action" centers in the area encompassing Carnegie Park, the Presbyterian church grounds, and the Veterans Memorial Building.

In addition to the performing arts entertainment, ongoing features of the festival open from noon to 5:30 p.m. include a display of photography and show of 200 purchasable works of art at the Veterans Memorial Building, as well as an outdoor cafe serving sandwiches and snacks, and craft booths with handmade items for sale at Carnegie Park.

Children are not forgotten, but may enjoy special entertainment in a "pioneer town" where they may participate in art activities — face painting at the Beauty and Barber shop, construction of cornhusk, apple and clothespin dolls at the Toy Shop, refreshments at The Saloon, a bucket brigade at the Fire Station, and more. The Laughing Cricket Theater will offer two shows at 2 and 3:30 p.m. Sunday.

Highlight of the festival will be a Saturday evening program at the Presbyterian "Sanctuary" grounds featuring a look at Yankee Rhyme and Reason, musical portraits of the Founding Fathers, songs of the Thirties, Gershwin classics and an orchestral salute to "The Music Man." Participating in the 8 p.m. presentation will be the Livermore-Amador Symphony, the Livermore Civic Chorus, the Cask and Mask players, and guests from Oakland's Woodminster Summer Musical Theater.

Festival '75 will open with a gala champagne preview of the art and photography exhibits Friday from 8 to 11 p.m. at the Veterans Memorial Building. Tickets are $2.75 per person at the door.

THE ILLUSIONS

The stunning musical trio of Karen Johnson, Joann Tucker and Shirley Rogers will stroll among festival-goers Saturday from 12:30 to 1:30 p.m. at Carnegie Park during Livermore's celebration of the arts.

Fine arts show

The Times apologizes for an error which appeared in the Sept. 25 edition of Inside the Arts regarding the winning entries in Festival '75 fine arts competition.

James Wayson of Berkeley earned first place recognition for his two outstanding entries in the textile category, while Cynthia Ostle of Pleasanton received honorable mention. The Times incorrectly stated that first place was given to Cynthia Ostle.

Bicentennial poster contest

A "Spirit of '76" poster contest open to high school, junior high and grade school students in the Pleasanton School District will be sponsored by the Pleasanton Bicentennial Committee culminating Nov. 7.

First, second and third place winners in each age category will receive all-city cash awards of $50, $25 and $15. Special in-school cash awards will be presented at each school along with ribbons and certificates.

First place winners that best represent Pleasanton's historic past will have their posters reproduced and sold for keepsakes as a Bicentennial fund-raiser.

For more information contact Barbara Joan Smith at 846-2088.

Solo with a symphony?

Young musicians may compete for a spot in the limelight with the Livermore-Amador Symphony for the symphony's youth concert slated Feb. 8 in Livermore and Pleasanton.

High School and junior high school students from the valley may compete with any instrument, including piano. Candidates will be asked to submit an application form and a tape recording of one concerto movement. Tapes will be returned.

Deadline for submission of application form and tape is Nov. 2. Further information and forms are available from Mrs. Arnold Clark (443-2656), 3892 Madeira Way, Livermore; or Mrs. Robert Butler (896-4628), 3831 Pinot Court, Pleasanton. School music departments and private music teachers also have forms.

Applicants accepted for audition will be notified, and then perform in person before the conductor of the symphony and a judge from outside the valley Nov. 16. One or more finalists will be named.

Play at LA benefits Tao House

Funds for the purchase and restoration of Tao House near Danville come from a wealth of sources.

Like the Westwood Playhouse, just a masked eye lash away from the UCLA campus.

Directed by Jose Quintero, "Hughie" will have a limited engagement of 16 performances Oct. 1-12, with proceeds funding the purchase of Tao House. It was at the Danville home that O'Neill wrote "Hughie," "Long Day's Journey Into Night," and "The Iceman Cometh," among others.

O'Neill and Jason Robards, who will play the lead, could well be considered treasures of this country ... right up there with ice cream, Kansas wheat and baseball.

For valley residents who may be in the Los Angeles area the theatre is located on LeConte Avenue just a few yards from the main entrance onto the UCLA campus.

The theatre is in the rear of an antique-furniture store. Seating is limited and the stage is about half the size on those found at the Curran or Geary in San Francisco. All seats are $5.50 and further information may be had by writing the playhouse at 10886 LeConte Ave., Los Angeles 90024. Checks should be made payable to Westwood Playhouse and a stamped, self-addressed envelope enclosed.

Local artist takes 'first'

Diane Axton, Pleasanton artist and a member of The Valley Artists, captured first prize and $100 for her oil painting entry at the Lodi Grape Festival this month.

Her entry in the landscape-marine category was chosen from among 170 oil paintings in the show. Entitled "Thistle Theme," the impressionistic painting depicts a landscape with a lone thistle bending in the wind.

"I was stunned at first," admitted Mrs. Axton. "This really represented a high point in my life. I was also tremendously pleased for my husband's sake. It's sort of a vindication of Raymond's belief in me and his continuous encouragement over the past few years when faith in myself was low."

Mrs. Axton, who now considers painting her profession, began painting only five years ago. Her first teacher was Theresa Denlavy of Sacramento.

Diane is also a member of the Livermore Art Association, the Pleasanton Art League and the Society of Western Artists.

Oktoberfest this weekend!

Joe Smiel and his Big Bavarian Band return to the Pleasanton fairgrounds to star in Oktoberfest USA 1975, a decade-old tradition in the valley which swings Oct. 3, 4 and 5.

Folkdancing, ethnic entertainment, bratwurst, "polka" sausages, giant pretzels, strudel and beer are just a few of the elements to delight the expected 50,000 people during the festival.

Other attractions include Fred Burri, Disneyland's

Matterhorn yodeler, Paul Knauer, a white-bearded acrobat, and Peter Dobler who plays the mountain folk instrument called an Alphorn. International dance troupes will entertain continuously.

Participants dress in Tyrolean attire — lederhosen, dirndls and braids. The traditional cry of "Eins, Zwei, Drei, Gssfi!" made each time a new keg of beer pops opens is also perpetuated at the festival. This brand of ethnic celebration has been popular in Europe since 1810 when a royal couple celebrated the harvest of hops for three days after their wedding.

The festival opens Friday from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. and continues Saturday from 6 p.m. to 2 a.m. and Sunday from noon to 10 p.m. Admission is $4 for adults and $2 for children, with free parking.

Young people under 21 years of age will be admitted only on Sunday when accompanied by an adult.

Joe Smiel (accordion) headlines the festivities with his Bavarian Band and its traditional folk rhythms for the 11th annual Oktoberfest USA celebration in Pleasanton Oct. 3, 4 and 5.

Artists may 'show off' and sell at Streete Faire

Artists and craftpersons are offered an opportunity to offer original creations at the popular Pleasanton Street Faire Oct. 10-12 by the Pleasanton Art League in conjunction with the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce.

Since its debut in 1972, the street fair has mushroomed into a main bi-annual event at Pleasanton drawing thousands of visitors.

The pioneer-town look of Main Street is an appropriate setting for the fair with its Bicentennial theme. Participants are encouraged to show and sell their wares dressed in heritage costume. Booths will also be located at the Amador Shopping Center.

Booth space may be rented for a flat fee (no commission is charged) from Chairman Billie Scher at 846-5437. All proceeds from the fair will be donated to the Cultural Arts Center in Pleasanton and the PAL art scholarship fund.

by Bernice Bede O'Neil

For Thursday, Oct. 2, 1975

ARIES (March 21-April 19)
You're a good worker today, but you won't be as detail-conscious as you should be. Watch for little mistakes that could be avoided.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20)
You're friendly and outgoing, but you could make some remarks in jest today that a sensitive friend will misinterpret. Be careful!

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
Your mate is not likely to share your enthusiasm about projects around the home today. Be prepared to tackle them alone.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
Lighter interests will command the greater part of your time today. Excuses will be found for shirking responsibilities.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
You'll be a pennywise shopper today concerning domestic needs, but you'll pamper an extravagant whim in another area.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
You'll be aware of opportunity about you today. Strong self-doubts will also be present. They may gain the upper hand.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
If you handle business matters early, they should come off to your advantage. Delaying things lessens your prospects.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
Guard against your tendencies to buy something you have no real need for, though you'll feel it's a bargain.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
Spur-of-the-moment decisions will assist you in achieving your aims today. If you deliberate too long, you're not likely to act.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)
Make it a point today to be as frank and honest as possible with everyone. Holding back information will work against you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19)
This can be a profitable day if you're singular about your goals. Keep your priorities in order.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20)
You will be tempted today to back out of an earlier impulsive promise. If you do, it will cause you remorse.

Your Birthday

Oct. 2, 1975

Unusual chances for material gain will pop up unexpectedly for you this coming year. Investigate carefully all propositions, even though they may seem a bit far out.

WIN AT BRIDGE

Ace-king eases slam bidding

that South really has a spade suit. Hence he temporizes with a bid of three spades.

South has nothing further to show, so he simply signs off at four spades. This doesn't stop North from going right into Blackwood and bidding the slam once South shows his three aces.

The slam is a very good one. It might go down with very bad breaks, but the way the cards lie almost any line of play will bring in 12 tricks. In fact, if East gets cute and lets dummy hold the first heart trick declarer will come in with 13.

Ask the Jacobys

A Dakota reader wants to know what we would lead from: ♠Q92 ♥7654 ♦1086 ♣752 after the opponents have reached three notrump-three notrump.

The answer is that we open the duce of spades. Partner must have a reasonable number of high cards. If he also holds five spades, we may get his spade suit off and running before South can wrap up nine tricks.

(Do you have a question for the Jacobys? Write "Ask the Jacobys" care of this newspaper. The most interesting questions will be used in this column and writers will receive copies of JACOBY MODERN.)

South can take away the ace-king of spades and still have an opening bid. Hence, in accordance with the rule of the ace and the king or just common sense his second bid is a jump to two spades.

North has 13 high-card points and is the equivalent of an ace and king or maybe just an ace and queen above a minimum response. He intends to check for aces and then bid a slam, but first he wants to make sure

Proposition 1 foes explain 'Project survival'

"It would be a healthier state for us to realize we really are in a crisis. We've got to use our heads."

Glenda Jaeger's summation of the energy situation facing this country is one reason that she and Barbara Hartley are both involved in Project Survival, a group now devoted to better public education on nuclear power.

Although Project Survival supports the controversial Nuclear Initiative (Prop. 1 on the June 1976 ballot), Jaeger and Hartley both are careful to emphasize that they are not flat-out against nuclear energy.

"For us to come out against nuclear energy would be insanity," Jaeger said, but she and the 4,000 other Project members do have some serious doubts.

Prop. 1 is one way of alleviating those doubts, despite what the energy industry may claim. The proposition calls for an end to a limit on liability in case of an accident, approval by the state legislature that nuclear power is indeed safe, and the formation of a nuclear power commission to rule on new plants.

If the legislature does not feel that nuclear power is safe, then the power plants would be slowly phased out of service. If, on the other hand, the legislature does believe that nuclear energy is safe enough to operate, the utilities could go on as before.

Questions that Hartley and Jaeger would like to see answered concern the storage of nuclear waste products, which could remain dangerous for 500,000 years, and the security systems necessary to insure that none of the extremely dangerous and toxic material is stolen.

The nuclear power industry hired a prominent Sacramento public relations firm to try to keep the Nuclear Initiative off the ballot but the petition drive managed to qualify the issue. Project Survival anticipates a similar publicity campaign to keep the measure from passing in June.

To counteract that, Jaeger is working with college campuses to try and encourage students to become educated about the proposition. Hopefully, after learning about the dangers of benefits of nuclear energy, students will opt for the cautious, conservative course of approving Prop. 1.

Hartley is the media representative for Project Survival in most of Alameda County and she is trying to get the press and radio and television people aware of the proposition. Here again, Project Survival runs head-on into the big bucks and smooth public relations of the anti-Prop. 1 forces.

"We hope to hold public forums, workshops and talks," Hartley said, although the aim of most of them would be education as opposed to propaganda.

Teacher programs are being set up that will make it easier for teachers to run energy units in their classrooms, to educate children that a way of life is changing.

Project Survival is a grassroots organization that is trying to buck the power industry, and traditionally grassroots organizations are only successful after a great deal of work and a certain amount of luck.

Also, this particular organization must emphasize and re-emphasize that Prop. 1 will not eliminate nuclear power as an energy source — it will merely assure that nuclear energy is safe enough to invest in heavily.

"I think the thing that would kill the Nuclear Initiative quickest would be for us to come out against nuclear power," said Jaeger.

"This is really the right step," she concluded. "It's the most conservative, realistic approach."

RYAN MCKEON

After three years of dealing with only seventh and eighth graders, new Cronin School Principal Ryan McKeon admits that younger children require somewhat different handling.

"Getting back down to the little tiny guys is somewhat of a problem," McKeon admits ruefully, but he fully expects to make that adjustment soon.

McKeon has only been at Cronin in the Murray Elementary School District for two weeks now, since former principal Heinz Gewing was elevated to the Assistant Superintendent post.

McKeon was assistant principal in charge of seventh and eighth grades at Donlon

School before his promotion, and his new post naturally has caused some changes.

He used to spend about 80 per cent of his time with students at Donlon but so far he's been snowed under by paperwork and getting things together at Cronin.

One of the big problems is that Cronin is applying for an Early Childhood Education (ECE) program, which not only involves paperwork, but lots of meetings with parents.

"More of my time will be spent with parents than before" the 37-year old Pleasanton resident says, and he hopes, at the same time, to get Cronin parents more involved in the school.

"We have a real good Parent Volunteer program run by a parent," McKeon says "but I would like to see the PTA become a little more active."

McKeon is a former high school football coach who is involved with the Pleasanton Junior Football League. He spent nine years as a teacher with seven years off for various other enterprises along the way.

He enjoys teaching and will both teach an elective class and occasionally teach regu-

"I'll be getting myself into the kids and letting them get to know me as well as keeping my finger in teaching," he says.

"I want to have as much dealing with the students as possible," McKeon adds, but he feels the only way to do so is to be honest. And he thinks being honest with his staff is just as important.

"I think you have to be super-honest" to be a good principal, McKeon concludes.

Chevette.

Chevrolet's new kind of American car.

Chevette

- Chevette is international in design and heritage. It incorporates engineering concepts proved around the world.
- Its wheelbase is about the same as a VW Rabbit's.
- It has more front-seat head room than a Datsun B-210, more front-seat leg room than a Toyota Corolla.
- Its turning circle is one of the shortest in the world.

- It can carry cargo up to four feet wide.
- It is well insulated against noise.
- It is protected by 17 anti-corrosion methods.
- It is basically a metric car. And, as you know, the metric system is on its way to becoming the standard American measurement.
- It has a standard 1.4-litre engine.
- A 1.6-litre engine is available (except Scooter).

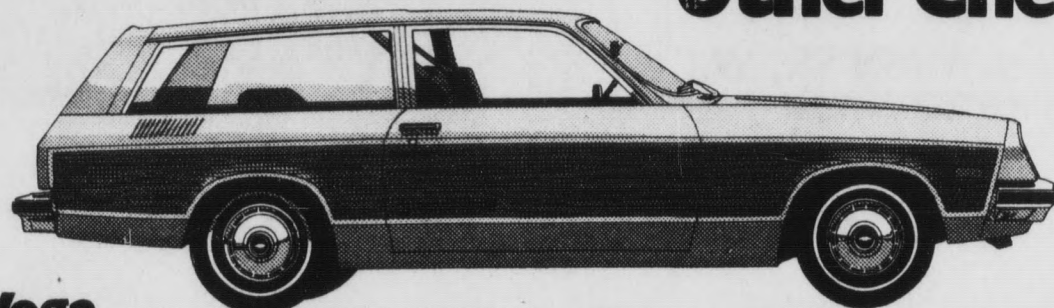

- It comes with a clear, simple self-service booklet.
- It's a two-door hatchback, with seating for four in the Chevette Coupe and its Rally, Sport and Woody versions. A perky two-passenger model, the Scooter, is also available.
- It is sold and serviced by every Chevrolet dealer in America—all 6,030 of them.

Other Chevrolet values for 1976.

Vega

Built to take it. Vega for 1976: An extensive anti-corrosion program. New hydraulic valve lifters, for quieter engine performance. A new torque-arm rear suspension. And Vega offers a tough Dura-Built 140-cu.-in. 4-cyl. engine guarantee.

5-YEAR/60,000-MILE ENGINE GUARANTEE.
This 5-year/60,000-mile engine guarantee is an added value feature included in your 1976 Vega or Monza car.
The Chevrolet guarantee covers 60,000 miles, or 5 years, whichever occurs first. The guarantee is for 1976 Vegas and Monzas equipped with 4-cylinder, 140-cubic-inch engines. It means that should something go wrong with the engine, your Chevy dealer will fix it. Free. The guarantee covers repairs to the cylinder block, cylinder head, all internal engine parts, intake and exhaust manifolds, and water pump, made necessary because of defects in material or workmanship. It does not cover repairs required because of accident, misuse or lack of proper maintenance.
See your Chevy dealer for complete guarantee statement.

Impala

One of America's most popular full-size cars. That's the result of giving America good value for the dollar. This year, the Impala series includes the new value of the thrifty Impala S—Chevrolet's lowest priced full-size car.

Nova/Concours

America's favorite compact car. Our basic compact, '76 Nova, makes even more sense than the 3 million Novas that preceded it.

And Concours, the brand-new model featured here, is our highly practical approach to compact luxury.

There's much more to see at your Chevy dealer's. Caprice, Monza, Monte Carlo, Camaro, Corvette, Chevrolet wagons—something for everyone in 1976.

Chevelle

Enough car for practically anything. It offers room for six at a sensible price. This year, more than ever, its deft blending of mid-size economies, plus room for the average family, makes Chevelle a size whose time has come.

Chevrolet Come in Oct. 2.
